Westminster Centennial

Fine Art Exhibit

July 8 to Sept. 29

Sponsored by the Paletteers Art Club,
The SCFD and
the Historic Westminster Art District

All art should tell something about the people, places and things that relate to the history of Westminster. Many of the historic houses and homes are still standing and can be photographed and painted as they are today. Photos from the past are available for reference from the Bowles House Museum and the Westminster Historical Society. Walking tour books of historic Westminster are available for purchase for $5 or $6 at the galleries in the Historic Westminster Art district.

The entries will be juried for acceptance into the exhibit.

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

As I have mentioned before (maybe more than once), I am resigning the President's position effective at the end of this year. I have really enjoyed being in the position for the last 5 years. Thank you all for your support and all the hours that you volunteer to the Club. On Thursday May 19th, I was interviewed by Adams County Cultural Council for the 2012 SCFD Grant. At the end of the interview, one of the board members made the statement that "Paletteers is what SCFD is all about." They all congratulated us on the years and quality of service we have provided Adams County. I was very proud to represent the Paletteers Art Club and thank each of you for that privilege.

Someone told me that I have made the president's job too hard by being responsible for so many things, like the grants, scheduling the programs and putting on the annual workshop along with chairing the Board and General meetings. Sooo-how about we split up the jobs?

One or two people responsible for the grants, one or two people to schedule the programs, and one or two people responsible for putting on the workshops. I am not going anywhere and will help any way I can to assist you in learning whatever it takes.

I will still be involved as much as I can, but I have to start cutting back as my home life is becoming more involved.

Regarding the grants, having some computer skills helps as everything is basically done on line. Regarding the programs, there are 9 meetings that we need demos, at least one of them as a critique. So that means 8 or fewer that would need a visiting artist. Regarding the workshops, 2011 and 2012 are scheduled. Now is the time to start thinking about 2013 and 2014. Some computer skills are needed for this job also as there is a lot of e-mailing required for contact with the artist and also for registering the interested artists. Please call me if you have any questions about any of the jobs. Think about stepping up. Get involved, Help keep the Club vibrant and alive.
